

It's New York Attorney General Letitia James with an exciting announcement.

I'm officially endorsing Adrienne Adams for New York City mayor.

Our nation has descended into chaos and confusion – and New York has a target on its back. The Trump administration is threatening our way of life in every corner of our city. So we need a mayor who will stand up for what's right and protect our freedoms, our way of life, our rule of law, and our democracy.

Adrienne was built for this moment. She's a Queens girl who became the first Black speaker of the City Council. She's saved our libraries and our childcare centers, expanded affordable housing, and expanded reproductive health care.

And now, she's running to be the first female mayor of New York City.

New York City is at an inflection point. Trump donors are pouring hundreds of thousands of dollars into this race to sow chaos in our City Hall. We can't afford to look to the past – because if you keep looking backward, you're going to trip.

I am looking forward – forward to someone who will put confidence over chaos, results over ego, and people over politics. Adrienne is that leader – someone who is passionate and grounded in the principles with which this country was built.

We can elect a proven leader with a record of getting things done without scandals and distractions. We can elect Adrienne.

But we need your help.

Please:

If you believe in her as much as I do, can you give today to support her campaign? a4nyc.com/423?t=NgEncl
